Prize Winners at Red Cross Home Hygiene Classes

The masquerade ball of the Red Cross Home Hygiene Classes, held at the Scholastic Club, was a success. The large drill shed, beautifully and appropriately decorated, was visited by many who enjoyed the contest and dancing to the strains of Harry Manne's orchestra.

The grand march, which started at 10:30, proved an interesting feature of the ball. A brilliant array of costumes was exhibited in contending for the prize offered and the following persons were awarded the honors:

Mrs. T. Peterson of 61 Wall street was awarded an order for a permanent wave at the Marcelle Beauty Parlor for the most original costume.

Mrs. J. D. Trowbridge of 15 Main street, second prize for the most original costume, a five dollar gold piece.

Charles Wright of 61 Wall street, first prize of five dollars in gold for the best dressed man.

Mrs. T. Donnelly of 112 Prospect street, first prize for the most complete lady's costume and John Smith of 55 Downs street for the most complete man's costume. Each received an order for photographs at the Lipkar Studio.

Elizabeth Ashcroft of Hifton and J. D. Trowbridge of 48 Main street took second prizes for the most complete costumes.

As a part of its nation-wide campaign to raise the health standards of the country, the American Red Cross has given instruction to 1,170 women and girls in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick during the last year.

The course gives the students a deeper understanding of their own health needs and the needs of their families as well as of the community. The principal aim being the prevention of illness and the prevention of illness.

Personal hygiene and health habits essential to every individual are stressed in these classes, while students at the same time are taught how to plan a healthful home, protect in cleanliness, sanitation, ventilation, and lighting, as well as in furnishing and care.

Another important part of the course includes instruction in how to handle, bathe, dress, and feed babies and young children, in order to safeguard their health during the growing period. Supplementing this is the instruction in the care of the sick, which teaches the student how to make a patient comfortable, give a bed bath, change the linen of an occupied bed, and to deal with common illness and emergencies in the home.

NEW YORK LETTER CARRIER AWARDED CARNEGIE MEDAL

Pittsburgh, Nov. 1 (AP).—A New York letter carrier's heroism in searching a negro from death under an electric train in the metropolis won him a Carnegie Hero medal yesterday. The Hero Fund Commission, meeting in this city, made the award to Joseph LaPollo of 215 West 117th street. He was the only resident of New York state honored at this session.

LaPollo's citation read as follows: "LaPollo, aged thirty-eight, letter carrier, saved Samuel Thomas (colored), aged forty-six, longshoreman, from being killed by a train, New York, N. Y., August 15, 1925. Thomas fell from a station platform to a railroad track four feet below and lay across the rails, on which an electric train was approaching. LaPollo, who knew a train would arrive at any moment, jumped to the track from the platform and tried unsuccessfully to lift Thomas. The train was then about a hundred and fifty feet distant, running at a speed of fifteen miles an hour, and LaPollo rolled and half carried Thomas over the rail and under the narrow overhanging platform. With difficulty he held Thomas quiet as the electric shoes of the trucks of two cars passed within a few inches of them. Neither was injured."
